

Grandmother's Marmalade

BUY IT TO-DAY
YOUR GROCER HAS IT

MADE BY The WHIPPLE CO.
NATICK - MASS.

FORESTERS GIVE UP HALL

THEY CONTROLLED 21 YEARS

For the past twenty-one years the hall on the third floor of the Chapman building on Franklin square has been known as the Foresters hall, but it will now have to take on another name as the Foresters have given up control of it and will hold their last meeting in it this (Friday) evening. Beginning next month the Foresters are to meet in Steiner's hall.

In the spring of 1900, the Foresters took a lease on the hall and have continued it ever since until now. As there have been three courts of Foresters, each meeting twice a month, these occupied six months in the month and the hall has been sublet on other nights to other fraternal societies. Since the three courts have been merged into one, the Foresters have decided to give up the control of the hall.

Before the Foresters took the hall it was known for ten or more years as Grand Army hall and was occupied by Sedgewick Post, No. 1, G. A. R., which has been meeting since 1898 in the Buckingham Memorial which the post owns.

APPLIES FOR RECEIVER

FOR WALLPAPER COMPANY

Olive Woodworth of New London made application Thursday to the superior court for the appointment of a receiver for the Waller A. Smith Co., Inc., paint and wallpaper firm of Bank street.

The company has capital stock of $5,000, divided into 50 shares of $100 each, and that he is the owner of 41 shares.

He asks for the dissolution of the corporation and the appointment of a receiver inasmuch as the assets of the company are in danger of dissipation because of litigation of creditors.

Judge John W. Banks signed an order appointing Mr. Woodworth receiver and ordered him to furnish bonds of $10,000. A hearing on the confirmation of the appointment will be held Tuesday morning, March 22, at 10 o'clock.

Danbury—Mayor William C. Gilbert, three times the successful candidate of his party, was nominated for the fourth time at the republican caucus held in the city hall.

—THE—
Porteous & Mitchell COMPANY

Three Special Offerings
From Our Silk Department

All Silk Crepe-de-Chine —
Satin-de-Chine and Dress
Foulards — adaptable for evening and reception wear, also for afternoon and street wear. Shown in all the leading Spring shades :

Special No. 1
At $1.69 a Yard

40-inch All Silk, Crepe-de-Chine, in ivory, light blue, turquoise, yellow, pink, coral, old rose, gray, henna, Copenhagen, sapphire, brown, navy and black—For Blouse, Skirt, or Dress—Very Special Value, at $1.69 a yard.

Special No. 2
At $1.98 a Yard

Yard-wide, Satin-de-Chine, the leading fabric for street and evening wear, in white, light blue, turquoise, pink, coral, old rose, henna, gray, sand, sapphire, Copenhagen, navy, brown and black — desirable for Waist, Skirt or Dress — Very Special Value, at $1.98 a yard.

Special No. 3
At $1.98 a Yard

Yard-wide Satin Foulards, neat figured designs, on taupe, navy and black grounds, in a variety of designs, suitable for street or evening wear—Special value, at $1.98 a yard.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

Various Matters

Norwich, Friday, March 18, 1921.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 6.37 o'clock this evening.

Good quality hay from Lebanon is being sold at $22 per ton.

An adjourned town meeting at Old Lyme voted to levy a tax of 15 1/2 mills.

Up at Watford, Henry Baw and Ransom Tiff have begun making maple syrup.

Rebekah's whist tonight in Odd Fellows hall—adv.

Fishermen have just two weeks to wait until the opening of the trout fishing season.

The prayer meeting topic at Trinity Methodist church was "Giving God a Chance in Our Lives."

The planet Jupiter, which was morning star until March 4th, will be evening star until September 21.

Some most artistic and appealing posters, setting forth the claims of the relief for Ireland have been distributed about town.

Chicken fanciers who are owners of incubators are having the best of good luck this spring, the weather and conditions proving most favorable.

The Easter vacation for the more than 600 pupils at Norwich Free Academy begins Thursday, March 24. The spring term opens Tuesday, April 5th.

The rows of dairy crochets in the grounds at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Perkins, on Rockwell street, are admired by all who see them.

Joseph H. Darling, lower operator at Skyrock, was at work on the main office, New Haven, all the past week, as train dispatcher on the New Haven division.

Special assembly of Franklin Council, No. 3, R. and S. M., at Masonic Temple tonight at 7 o'clock. Ballot only—adv.

George Danielson, of Pomfret, has purchased a farm in Eastford owned recently by Benjamin F. Hogg. He expects to occupy the property the first of April.

The Prayer and Praise service at the Central Baptist church was led by Secretary Ed. Hill, and was followed by a meeting of the chorus choir, C. D. Geer, director.

George W. Loring, of Central Village, who recently bought the Vaughn place on the road toward Moscow is fixing the place up and expects to move there in about three months.

At the United Congregational church Thursday at 7:45 at the mid-week service the subject was "The Parable of the Pearl of Great Price." The pastor, Rev. A. H. Abbott, led the meeting.

Druggists here get the information that the approach of spring and the probability that large numbers of workers will be available to collect crates of drugs tend to bear the market on spot stocks, and prices continue to decline.

Big drop in prices: large arrival of heavy Nova Scotia lobsters. Place your orders for Saturday delivery. Forwards Bros.—adv.

It is noted by an Ashaway R. I. correspondent that Mrs. Elizabeth Breasley of Stafford Springs, Conn., has been spending a week visiting her daughters, Mrs. Anna Ham, Mrs. Henry Carter and Miss Winnie Breasley.

Friends and business associates have remembered this week that March 16th was the first anniversary of the death of Amos Walton Pearson, for 41 years with the Norwich Bulletin, a good proportion of that time as editor.

Roads in Mohegan Park are drying up well, and several automobiles drove through Thursday.

The Washington street entrance road is not in such good condition as Superintendent Edward A. Smith hopes to have it before long.

Confidential has been given that the annual dinner of the National Wholesale Men's Furnishings association is to be held April 14, at the Hotel Astor, New York. Retailers have been included in the invitations sent for the affair.

Before, during and after the special St. Patrick's day mass, Thursday, at 9 o'clock, in St. Patrick's church, Organist Frank L. Farrell played a superb program of music, including Irish melodies. The high mass was sung by Rev. Philip J. Mooney.

Charles Bryant, formerly of Moosup, has just undergone a surgical operation at his home in Canton, Mass. While cranking a machine, crank kicked back and hit him in his right side, burning a blood vessel and necessitating an operation.

At plainfield, Arvine Dawley has sold his property, which was the Rev. Mr. Carter place, to Herbert Tarbox and is to begin the management of Springfield farm near Bishop's crossing at once. Mr. Dawley bought the Carter place two years ago.

From 3,000 to 5,000 red winged black birds were observed at Selden's Cove, Hadlyme, the other afternoon, feeding on the marshy flats bordering the cove. Two large flocks of Canada geese passed over just at night the same day. Woodcocks were heard the following evening.

Albert E. Wilkinson, specialist in market gardening at Connecticut Agricultural college, Storrs, was in Danbury this week visiting market gardeners for the purpose of forming a local market gardeners' association to work in co-operation with the Farm Bureau on truck problems.

The United States Civil Service commission announces on April 18 an examination for assistant dairy husbandman, man or woman under 45 years of age, for vacancies in the Dairy Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, at salaries ranging from $1,550 to $2,250 a year.

Back at his desk in his office at the plant of the Norwich Belt Manufacturing company, of which he is president, former State Treasurer Henry H. Gallup received the welcome of business friends and employees, Thursday. Mr. Gallup has been ill at his apartment in the Mohican hotel for nearly four months.

Families hereabouts that have boys on the training line heard Thursday that an American Pacific fleet squadron will cruise in Australian, New Zealand and South Sea Island waters in July, August and September. The squadron will comprise eight battleships, twenty destroyers and nine supply ships and tenders.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Miss Elizabeth Sevin is the guest of her cousin, Miss Rosina Allen, of Jewett City.

Miss Carrie E. Rogers, of Washington, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Lewis Smith.

Mrs. Joseph C. Worth and Mrs. Elita Davenport Wallace have returned from Lakewood.

Mrs. William A. Arty, of Stamford, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Roy Robbins.

Mrs. Henry Oestrelin of Trenton, N. J., has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. William B. Bire.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles D. White have arrived in Honolulu where they will remain for several months.

Mrs. Robert DuBois and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spadone of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Frank C. Brewer of Hingham, N. Y., have been guests of Arthur H. Brewer.

Saugusack—Mrs. M. T. Cockcroft of Saugusack was a blue ribbon at the international flower show being held at the Grand Central Palace, New York, for her display of orchids.

PERSONALS

E. G. McFarland of Norwich was a caller at Lord's Hill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Tarbox of Norwich were recent guests of Mrs. Tarbox's father, Sanford Burdick, of East Onece.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lord and John W. Lord of Stonington were in Norwich to attend the funeral of Mrs. Henry A. Lord.

OBITUARY

Rev. Lemuel W. Frink.

Following a period of failing health for the past year Rev. Lemuel W. Frink, a retired clergyman, died at his home at 13 Albee street on Thursday noon.

Rev. Mr. Frink was born in Preston on Feb. 27, 1850. It was in Preston that he spent his boyhood attending the Broadbrook and Brown district schools and later a select school in Preston City.

In 1870 he came to Norwich and attended the Norwich Free Academy and the following year took a business course at the Eastern Business College at Foughkepole, N. Y. In 1871 he began teaching in Jewett City where he was the principal of the Jewett City graded school, remaining here a year. At the end of this time he entered the Connecticut Literary Institute and was graduated in 1875. He then prepared for the ministry at the Newton, Mass. Theological institution from which he was graduated in 1878.

Rev. Mr. Frink was married Sept. 27, 1878, to Mary Isabel Burrows, daughter of William W. and Almira Smith Burrows, a former sea captain and residing in Poquonock, Conn., where they died.

On Oct. 29, 1878, he was ordained to the Baptist ministry at Hinsdale, N. H., and became pastor of the Main Street Baptist church of that city, continuing in that charge one year when he resigned to accept a call as pastor of the Plainfield Union church at Plainfield, Conn., which he presided as pastor for about a year and a half, during that time doing effective and far-reaching revival work.

Mr. Frink then accepted a call to the First Baptist church at Hartford, R. I., of which he was pastor for nearly five years, resigning that pastorate to become pastor of the First Baptist church at Marlborough, Mass. After one and a half years' service in that place he became pastor of the Baptist church at Sharon, Mass., resigning after two and a half years' service there, to accept a call to the First Baptist church at Santa Cruz, Calif., where, however, he was located but a short time. Returning east he accepted a call to the Baptist church at West Boylston, Mass., with which he remained three years. His next charge was the North Tewksbury Baptist church where he remained for two years. He then returned to Preston City where he lived for about two years and in 1898 he removed to Norwich where he had since resided.

For two years he supplied the pulpit of the Baptist church at Plainfield, N. J., and his wife held membership in the Preston City Baptist church. In March, 1899, Mr. Frink became engaged in monumental business which he has ever since successfully followed.

Mr. Frink is survived by his wife, a son, George William Frink, two daughters, Miss Marion M. Frink and Mrs. Harry W. Ward of this city. There is one grandchild, Wendell Ward.

Manuel J. Fields.

The death of Manuel J. Fields, janitor of the city hall for the last 50 years, occurred this (Friday) morning at 12:45 o'clock at his home, 29 Ward street. He was in his 81st year. A week ago he had been obliged to take to his bed with an attack of bronchitis, and he had failed gradually since then.

Mr. Fields was born at Fayal, in the Azores, on Nov. 7, 1840. In his boyhood he worked in the fields of Fayal, but always had a longing to come to this country where his two sisters had preceded him. At length at the age of 12 his hopes were realized and he took ship from Fayal and landed in Boston Harbor. His sisters were at Sag Harbor, L. I. In October of the same year he came to this country for a three-year cruise on the schooner Conqueror, which headed for the west coast of Africa. At South America, when the cook deserted, he was made steward of the ship, finishing the cruise. Later he was cook on the Eliza S. Potter, from Noank to Wilmington, N. C. He made a nine months' trip to New Orleans, and also served as steward on vessels from Greenport to foreign countries. He went around Cape Horn several times and during the Civil war he served on some of the blockade runners, having served meals to General McClellan.

At the age of 18 he was married in this city to Mary Francis, also a native of Fayal. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Ashley, pastor of the First Baptist church. In Norwich Mr. Fields was employed for a short time by the late Rev. Martin F. Bent, and then by the Thames Iron works, and then entered the employ of Gilbert Congdon, who built the city hall, remaining with him until the building was completed, May 24, 1871. Mr. Fields became janitor then and has held the position ever since, with the exception of Joseph J. Fields, his assistant for the last five years. He was familiar with every detail of the building, working in its care, and was held in affectionate esteem by the succession of city and town officials whom he had been associated in his long term of faithful service. In his spare time he gave attention to his belt houses, as he was an expert in the culture of flowers.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fields celebrated their golden wedding anniversary March 7, 1911. Her death occurred five years ago. He is survived by two daughters and two sons, Frank J. Fields and Joseph J. Fields, Mrs. Mary L. Dalton and Mrs. Laura A. Williams, all residing in Norwich. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Frank Sylvia, of Taunton, Mass.

Mrs. Henry M. Latham.

Word has been received here of the death on Wednesday of Mrs. Henry M. Latham, mother of Allen Latham, of Scotland road. Mrs. Latham has been in failing health for some time and on Wednesday she passed away at her home in Clinton, Mass.

Mrs. Latham was formerly Miss Harriet A. Clonson and was born in Thetford, Vt. 87 years ago. A large part of her life was spent in Vermont where she was united in marriage with Henry M. Latham, who died about 25 years ago. For the past 15 years she has made her home in Lancaster and Clinton, Mass.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Mary L. Dalton, Mrs. Allen Latham of Norwich, Charles H. Latham of Lancaster, Mass., Miss Arrabelle Latham, who lived with her mother, Mrs.

ST. PATRICK'S NIGHT DANCES AND PLAY VARY QUIET OF LENTEN SEASON

St. Patrick's day, coming about in the middle of the Lenten season, was set aside on Thursday for several dances and entertainments that broke the quiet of the season in the forty days before Easter. The day was a typical March day, sunny but with a biting touch to the air on the shady side of the street, and at night there was a dash of snow that was greeted by a few flakes of rain about 9 o'clock.

In Wauregan House Ball Room.

Manager J. J. McLaughlin of the Wauregan house provided a pleasant social feature in a well patronized dance in the Wauregan house ball room from 8:30 to midnight. Small tables, where refreshments were served, were set around the ball room in cabaret arrangement and there were several supper parties during the evening in the adjoining grill room. Smith's orchestra rendered a popular programme for the dancers.

Bethlehem Dance at Elks' Home.

The St. Patrick's night dance held at the Elks' home Thursday evening under the auspices of Division No. 2, A. C. H., had an attendance of nearly 400. Rowland's Jazz Band furnished the dance music, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

The proceeds of the dance are to be donated to the Irish relief fund being raised in this city. Martin V. Burke was chairman of the committee in charge of the dance. Those serving on the committee were Henry McGill, John Donovan, Patrick Donovan, Daniel O'Neil and George Richmond, Hawley.

Battery B. Dance at Armory.

At the state armory on McKinley avenue, Battery B of the Coast artillery conducted one of their popular dances, attracting a crowd of 300. Humphrey's orchestra, consisting of two violins, two tenors, saxophone, piano and drums, accompanied the dancing. The program was well received and a large number of the latest musical hits were favorites with the dancers.

During the evening Sgt. Harry House gave a short talk, on recruiting, to the Battery B. The speaker was Lieut. Tolouche, chairman, Lieut. Tongren, Sgt. House, Sgt. Malcolm, Sgt. Turner and Sgt. Callahan.

ST. MARY'S PLAYERS—

GIVE SOGGARTH AROON

Fully a thousand people crowded Pukaski hall, North Main street, Thursday evening when Soggarth Aroon, a four act play, was staged by the St. Mary's players. The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits.

The play was a comedy of the church building fund. It was a story of a parish which was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said, was in a financial straits. The church building fund, it was said,